EYE SPY PLEDGE:

I (say your name) promise to be a proud member of the Eye Spy Network. Word.

I will tackle every mission with courage, imagination and a mighty grin. Because I'm cool.

I will be kind to others - even the dreaded Look Cookers! Because I'm real.

I will not reveal the true identity of Inspector Goggle (even though I know who it is). Because I'm smart.

I will not say 'I will not' anymore!

EYE SPY MOTTO:

LOOK COOKERS

BLINK DRINKERS:

Blink Drinkers read the messages you send when you blink your eyelids – even though you don't intend to send any messages.

They are twins with big eyes. Matthew sometimes imagines that Blink Drinkers have antennas on the top of their heads.

WANTED

GAPE SCRAPERS:

Gape Scrapers are a rough and tumble group of boys and girls always wrestling for a spot by the window of the school bus. Their eyes are angular with large rake-like lashes that 'scrape' the view of what they see around them. You don't want to mess with a Gape Scraper.

LOOK COOKERS

GAWK STALKER:

Gawk Stalkers are nosy, always asking "What's your name?" They sneeze a lot and wipe their noses with their hand – very annoying. This one has tiny freckles and blond hair. His clothes are never tucked in. Gawk Stalkers like to pick on kids with glasses and this one is no exception.

WANTED

GLANCE DANCER:

Glance Dancers brush you gently with their eyes, but then move quickly to look at other things.

Mrs. Denton, the bus driver, is chubby with a round, smiling face. She is a very friendly Glance Dancer.

Her type of eye contact is the least disturbing to Matthew.

LOOK COOKERS

PEEK SEEKER:

Peek Seekers are shy.

This one has large green eyes and wears a pretty blue dress. She is very curious, often seen peeking over or around the seats on the bus.

She is dressed like a doll – very ladylike. But beware!

WANTED

PEEP LEAPER:

Peep Leapers like to be the center of attention. In fact they will do just about anything – even hang upside down in a tree – to get someone to look their way.

And then – the Peep Leaper leaps every peep (eyeball to eyeball) to keep the victim's gaze locked on. Maybe forever!

LOOK COOKERS

SCAN JAMMER:

Scan Jammers are fast. You hardly ever see them coming. They like speedy things like bicycles and skateboards and roller skates. Worst of all, they like to block your view so that all you see is them. Jamming away.

WANTED

SIGHT BITER:

A Sight Biter is the most dreaded, eyeball-bulging, nightmare with a bad haircut. He's a bully – just plain mean. Sight Biters have large bodies with pudgy hands and big feet. They thunder when they walk and get right up in your face when they talk. Matthew thinks this Sight Biter eats eyeballs for dinner.

LOOK COOKERS

STARE DARER:

Stare Darers are skinny.

Their heads look funny on their small bodies. This Stare Darer wears huge glasses with thick lenses and heavy black frames. He never blinks – and is always searching for a victim in a staring contest.

WANTED

UNKNOWN LOOK COOKER:

The world is filled with Look Cookers – for sure. Yikes!

Not all of them have been classified yet and some are so secret that Inspector Goggle will not reveal their identity or location until the next set of missions is published (in future books). So stay tuned.

EYE SPY AGENTS

SECRET AGENT 001: Matthew

Our hero. He's small, cute and doesn't like eye contact. His challenge is the first day of school with the dreaded Look Cookers.

He always has his trusty backpack with him at all times. And he has something special in there for his first day of school.

He pretends to be a secret agent. An eye spy. Will our hero conquer his fear of eye contact? Can he possibly survive???

EYE SPY AGENTS

SECRET AGENT 002: Ying

Ying is Matthew's new friend.

She is a little girl with a very big smile who casts an even bigger shadow. Ying is shy but very smart. Best of all – she is not a Look Cooker.

Ying helps Matthew on his second mission, in Return of the Look Cookers!

EYE SPY AGENTS

DIRECTOR OF INTELLIGENCE:

Inspector Goggle

The one, the only – the Jack of all Strays, Master of Run.

Affectionately known in spy circles as Iggy or Goggles – or just Dude! – by his closest allies. However, the Gog-Meister is no wimp. Inspector Goggle can be a tough task master especially at dinner time.

But fear not, The IG is on duty at all times keeping the world safe from Look Cookers!

EYE SPY AGENTS

SPECIAL AGENT "M":

Matthew's Mom

Always there when needed, Special Agent "M" is the glue that holds the entire Eye Spy Network together.

"M" provides essential backup for each and every mission – transportation, uniforms, rations and logistical support. And hugs. Eye Spies need lots of hugs.

She is in deep cover – the deepest. Even she doesn't know that she is a member of the Network.
